3. The reasons for recommending a Meadquarters briefing for personnel assigned to the Saigon Station were discussed at some length. In essence, these reasons include: (1) The fact that the station complement is to be increased rapidly in quantum jumps; about the staff employees will be departing for Saigon each month between now and the Spring of 1966. (2) Briefing personnel. en route to an overseas post is normally the function of the appropriate Headquarters Branch and Deak, but the numbers of new assigness involved here will severely tax normal processing methods. It is not efficient or, really, individually: feasible to attempt to brief over particularly in light of the present complement of the VEC Branch and SVH Dock and the demands already placed on their time. (3) Personnel proceeding to Saigon will become productive and effective members of the Station much somer if they arrive with some general knowledge of the country, its background and present political dynamics, of the status of the war, the organization of the VC/NLF, the CVE, the US Country Team and the latter's components, of the general lines and objectives of US policy, and of the mission, structure and in a general way, program of the Station of which they will be a part. (4) The need for thorough briefing/orientation prior to arrival in Vietnam is particularly important since few of the persons destined for Vietnam will have any significant knowledge or experience of the Far East, let alone Vietness, and a number will be on more or less directed assignments and hence subject to morele or notivational problems which can easily be compounded if they have any grounds for thinking they are being thrown into their new tasks without a modicum of orientation and preparation.

- discussion, it was suggested that during the introductory stage of the briefing program, the steps taken by the Agency to meet its needs in Vietnam be reviewed, including what the Agency as a whole is doing. Since many of the officers being assigned to Vietnam may never have used an interpreter but will do so in Vietnam, it was also suggested that a briefing on this subject be included. There will be many questions on administrative and personal housekeeping chores, i.e., housing, foed, clothing, living conditions, recreation, etc.. There should be suple time during the briefing program for covering these questions.
- 5. The CTR representatives pointed out the need for close direction of the briefing program both in the substantive and administrative details. An area within the Headquarters building is considered the most suitable place for conducting the briefings since the personnel in attendance will have processing and personal chores to take core of also. CTR also suggested that the Vietnam briefing program of other agencies be studied.
- 6. The group unanimously agreed that a briefing program on Vietnam should be recommended to Fr Division, and if this recommendation is adopted, FE and GTR with the assistance of other components concerned should work out the details for an orientation course of five working days duration. It was also agreed that, if possible, the first course should begin on or about 15 November.
